Article 1 Activation

UNINT University of Rome activates, in collaboration with the Universidade Estadual da Paraíba, for the Academic Year 2021/2022, XXXVII cycle, the three-year international doctoral program in “Intercultural Relations and International Management” (IRIM), whose administrative address is UNINT University of Rome. A public competition for admission to the doctoral course, based on the assessment of qualifications and an entrance test, is hereby announced.

International doctoral program in “Intercultural Relations and International Management”

Program Description and Goals	The program is designed to prepare highly qualified researchers and professionals with an extensive theoretical and applied knowledge of intercultural communication and cross-national management theories and practices, with a specific focus on the relationships between Europe and the most relevant emerging extra-European geographical countries that are gaining increasing economic, cultural and political weight internationally. The doctoral program aims to attract researchers with a strong multi/interdisciplinary profile, significant knowledge of intercultural communication and management research paradigms and able to develop high quality research focused on languages, international business, global history, political relations and international law. The program includes research and training in the areas of linguistics, management, cross-cultural communication, and, in general, it provides the doctoral students with a significant knowledge of the influence of economic, legal, social, historical and cultural aspects in relations between nations. Research topics included in the program are supervised by the Doctoral Board and they are designed to highlight different perspectives of the relations between Europe and one or more emerging areas. At the end of the program, doctoral students will be able to qualify for jobs in international business and organisations, including public institutions, supra-national organisations and multinational companies operating in Europe and/or in emerging countries. Upon completion of the program, former program candidates may also seek teaching and research positions in academia and other institutions of higher learning. Examples of job functions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Management of internal and external cross-cultural

Article 2

Admission Requirements

Candidates have the opportunity to apply regardless of age or nationality, provided that they are in possession of the qualifications set forth in Art.1 above or of an eligible foreign degree within the deadline of this competition. Failure to attain the degree within October 30, 2021, will result in the exclusion from the doctoral program.

The Doctoral Board will evaluate the eligibility of foreign degrees according to the documents annexed by candidates during the application procedure. Should the requirements not be met, the exclusion from the procedure may be decided, at any moment, by notification from the Head of Procedures. Therefore, admission to the program is conditional.

Article 3

Admission test

The selection is made by the examining Committee composed of at least 5 full members and 2 substitutes. Two-thirds of them belong to UNINT University but they are all part of the Doctoral Board of the doctorate. The Committee, during the first session, elects a Chairman. Resolutions are approved by majority and, in case of parity, the vote of the Chair prevails.

The admission test aims to ascertain, through comparative assessments, the candidate's basic skills and aptitude for scientific research and it consists of two parts.

In the first part, the Committee evaluates the following qualifications, by assigning up to 20 points for each candidate according to the following pattern:

- A. University career (max 5 points), which involves the final grade¹, the grade point average (GPA), and the abstract of the final dissertation.
- B. The research project written in English by the candidate (max 6 points) in line with the course techniques and approved by a professor not belonging to the Doctoral Board.
- C. Candidate's publications, if any (max 5 points).
- D. One or more recommendation letters written in English by professors or experts who do not belong to the Doctoral Board (max 2 points).
- E. Professional experiences, if any, or other qualifications (max 2 points).

¹ If the candidate got the graduation degree in a foreign university, the final grade must be converted to a grade out of one hundred and ten (110), according to the grade conversion tables available on the Italian Ministry of Education's web site. If the conversion was not possible, the Selection Committee will evaluate each case individually.

Only the candidates who get a minimum score of 12 points are admitted to the second part (interview), whose list will be available, after the qualifications assessment, on the UNINT website, a few days before the interview schedule.

The interview will be in English at the presence of the Examining Committee, in order to discuss in depth the contents of the research project proposed by the candidate.

Candidates living abroad or suffering from disabilities have the possibility to be interviewed by conference call if requested during the application procedure. The maximum score of the interview is 30 points for each candidate. After the interview, the Committee will select the eligible candidates whose names will be pointed out in a ranking list, expressed in fiftieths, according to the total score got by candidates in the qualifications assessment and in the interview.

The interview will take place on from September 13, 2021 to September 17, 2021. The selected candidates will receive information on date and time directly by UNINT Doctoral Office that will contact them by the email address they provide on the application form (Annex A). On the day of the interview candidates will be asked to present a valid identity document.

Article 4

Application and Deadline

Candidates willing to participate to the doctoral program must apply by the deadline of September 7, 2021, at 10.00 a.m.

The application must be correctly printed, signed and sent with all the requested attachments/annexes, by choosing one of the following modalities:

1. upload applications and attachments in PDF format to the application platform available at the following link: https://www.unint.eu/it/?option=com_rsform&formId=196;
2. submit applications and attachments in paper format by shipping them or by delivering them in person to the UNINT Doctoral Office from Monday to Friday, from 9.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m. In case the application is submitted in person, the candidate must make an appointment with the Doctoral Office. Applications submitted on September 7, 2021 at 10.00 a.m. will not be considered.

The call for applications will be available on the Gazzetta Ufficiale della Repubblica, while the whole text of the competition will be published on the UNINT website. Advertisements of the competition will be placed on Euraxcess and on the Ministry of Education's websites. The application must be completed as indicated in Annex A. Candidates who do not sign the request may be excluded from the competition.

Candidates must deliver, besides the request, the following documents:

1. identity document: a copy of an ID (for EU citizens) or of a passport with a photograph, identification number, place and date of birth, expiration date and the stamp of the competent authority.
2. Abstract of their final dissertation.
3. Academic transcript in order to certify the applicant's university career or – for those who already have a graduation degree, the final mark.
4. Research project written in English by the candidate, in line with the course guidelines, approved by a professor who does not belong to the Doctoral Board.
5. Declaration attesting whether the gross individual income is higher or lower than 15000.00€ per year in order to consider scholarships (Annex B);
6. Declaration of value and a copy of the graduation degree translated into Italian and legalized by the Italian Authority of the country in which it was attained, in case the candidate got the qualification in an extra-European country;
7. Diploma Supplement, if the candidate got the qualification in another member state of the European Union.

Candidates may also attach other (optional) documents:

8. Publications (if any),
9. One or more recommendation letters by professors or experts,
10. Other qualifications considered useful (professional experience or other qualifications).

In conformity with Law No. 104 of February 5, 1992, Art.20, candidates with disabilities have to provide a medical certificate to receive extra time or special devices during the test. Without prejudice to the conditions which lead to the exclusion from the application process, explicitly indicated in the announcement, it is possible at any moment to ask for the regularization of the applications that are formally incorrect, incomplete or not in line with the requirements attached to this decree.

Administration does not accept any responsibility for missing communication due to wrong or not updated contact information provided by candidates during the application procedure; neither for any circumstance due to third parties, force majeure or fortuitous events.

In the case of applications sent by the application platform, candidates should make sure that the request has been successfully submitted within the deadline. Once completed the upload procedure, the platform will send a confirmation message to the email address provided by candidates during the application submission.

Article 5

Admission to the course

The approval decree of procedure and the ranking list will be published on the UNINT web site. Candidates are admitted to the doctoral program according to the ranking order until all positions for the doctoral program are filled. Successful candidates who do not enrol at the doctorate office by the deadline of 10 (ten) days from the publication online of the ranking list will be considered as having renounced their position. An enrolment form is available on the UNINT web site and it must be correctly filled out and signed.

Any false declaration will cause automatic exclusion from the ranking list at the end of the admission test. Should a candidate decide not to take up his/her place, the place may be taken by other candidates on the ranking list. This may also occur also in the case a successful candidate renounces the position within the first three months of the course.

Article 6

Enrolment fee and Attendance

Every year students must pay a fee of 140€ to Lazio Region Agency promoting the right to university education, in addition to the annual fees. The fee concerning the final test and the issue of the parchment amounts to 90€ (including application and diploma fees). This fee shall be paid to UNINT University, since it is the administrative address of the doctoral program.

Article 7

Scholarships

Scholarships are conferred to students following the ranking order, according to the number of grants outlined in the competition. In case of exclusion or renouncement within the first three months of course, the candidate may be replaced by another applicant, according to the ranking order. Should the candidate have benefited, even partially, of the scholarship, he/she must return it. Scholarships have a duration of one year and are confirmed annually, provided that the student has been admitted to the successive year by the Doctoral Board.

The scholarships gross income amounts to 15343.28€, paid by monthly instalments, whose processing fees have to be paid by the student.

Pursuant to Law No.335 of 8 August 1995, Art. 2, paragraph 26, and later updates, scholarships are subject to social security INPS contributions, as follows: two thirds paid by the administration and one third by the student. Doctoral students benefit from the consequent legal protection and rights.

The scholarship amount is increased by 50% for any research period carried out at foreign institutions, duly authorized by the Doctoral Board. The research period abroad must not exceed a maximum of 18 months and a minimum of 30 days. Starting from the second year, in Italy or abroad, a budget of research is awarded to each student if they attend at another institution.

In order to benefit from the scholarship, the gross income of the candidate must not exceed 1500.00€ per year. Should the annual gross income exceed this amount, the beneficiary student shall declare it pursuant to Decree No. 445 of 28 December 2000.

The above mentioned income, communicated at the moment in which the scholarship is issued, includes revenues received from property ownership and any other recurring income, but occasional earnings are not considered.

In accordance with regulations, these principles do not affect students living abroad or receiving financial support for specific mobility programs, neither companies or institution's employees enrolled to industrial doctoral programs.

Scholarships cannot be combined with other grants, except for those issued by Italian or foreign institutions with the aim to integrate research or educational activities with study-abroad programs; in this case, the student does not receive any additional bonus.

Candidates who already have a Doctoral Degree or any other equivalent degree, may be admitted to attend other doctoral programs, provided that they pass the selection exam.

Students who have already benefited from a doctoral scholarship, even partially, are not eligible for a second one.

Article 8

Doctoral student's obligations and rights

Doctoral students benefit from university student status during the whole period of the course. During the attendance period students have rights and obligations in compliance with art.4 of Doctoral Regulation.

The title of "Dottore di Ricerca in Intercultural Relations and International Management" / "Doutorado em Intercultural Relations and International Management" is awarded after a positive assessment of the research thesis that shall contribute to research community.

Article 9

Head of Procedures

The Head of Procedures is Armando Bonanni, Administrative Manager of University of International Studies of Rome. The Doctorate Office takes care of the procedures and it can be contacted at:
